

Programs Available to Employers

TRANSITIONAL EMPLOYMENT

Job placements are arranged in the community and supported by The Meeting Place Clubhouse.

Supports include job specific training, free absentee coverage, and job coaches. Positions are part time and entry level. Employees rotate every 6-9 months and The Meeting Place provides on the job training for new employees.

SUPPORTED EMPLOYMENT

Employees are supported by the employment specialists who provide a tailored package of assistance. A feature of supported employment may include on-the-job support. Employment staff are covered under their own insurance and liability

SEASONAL/TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT

Employers often have time limited tasks and need short term employees. It is possible to find employees willing to accept temporary work to meet the specific needs of the employer. A job coach can bring a single individual or a small group out to complete most entry level projects.

Transitional Employment: When a Good Deed is a Good Deal

Work is restorative and empowering.
As a result, Transitional Employment Placements benefit from being held to the same standards of productivity and conduct as any other employee.

What is the Transitional Employment Program?

A highly structured program for Clubhouse members desiring to return to the workforce

Part time positions (or one full-time position divided into 2 part-time positions)

12-20 hours per week

Entry level positions in a variety of industries

Monday through Friday; daytime hours

Wages paid by the employer

Placements last 6-9 months, at which point a new member is trained for the job

No formal interview is required

“Working has allowed me to feel I am of value and an asset.
Transitional Employment has given me the opportunity to feel like a contributing member of society once again.” ~ April T.

Program Goals:
Positions allow members to gain
work experience, build confidence,
establish references, and gives members an opportunity to contribute more to their community.
